ISSUE:

Removing police chief position from Civil Service

SUMMARY STATEMENT

The Civil Service has met and talked about removing the police chief position from Civil Service and we are all opposed to this taking place.

We have recently posted the job of police chief and it was posted as a civil service position. The commission feels that it is in the best interest of our community to keep this position under civil service rule. Though cities with police departments of six or more officers may exempt their chief position, it is not a requirement.

FISCAL IMPACTS:

The commission sees no cost difference involved in keeping the chief position civil service.
